

Stevenson Says Nixon To Be Boss

GOP Still Asks Answer on Hiss

(By The Associated Press)
Adlai Stevenson, pushing the "part-time presidency" issue to the fore, has declared that President Eisenhower is "not master in his own house."

Democrat Stevenson, delivering the first nationwide TV-radio speech of his 1956 campaign for the presidency, said in Harrisburg, Pa., last night that "from here on the future of Republican leaders will depend not on Eisenhower, but the Republican heir apparent, Mr. Nixon."

Mention of the vice president's name evoked hearty boos from thousands of Democrats assembling for a $50-a-plate fund raising buffet and party rally.

No Facts, Says PMG
Reacting quickly, Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said in Washington that Stevenson had "kicked off his campaign with a resounding thud." And Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield dismissed Stevenson's speech as "devoid of facts, issues or substance."

Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, headed for Washington today where Stevenson will spend a week preparing for the grueling "precinct-by-precinct" drive that lies ahead.

Kefauver arranged to fly out of the capital at midday to start a two-week swing through 15 states. His first stop: Tampa, Fla.

Eisenhower, who formally opened his campaign Wednesday at a picnic rally on his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, planned no electioneering over the weekend.

Speech Schedules
A week from today, Eisenhower is scheduled to speak at the national ploughing contest in Newton, Iowa. Stevenson will follow him there the next day. It was reported last night that Eisenhower is considering a major farm speech at Peoria, Ill., on Sept. 25.

Nixon, who has gotten in a few preliminary licks at the Democrats, takes off next Tuesday on a 32-state tour.

Chairman Hall today chimed in with other Republicans who have called on Stevenson to repudiate former President Truman's statements about Alger Hiss, a onetime State Department employee who served a prison sentence after he was convicted of perjury for denying he had passed government secrets to Communist spies.

Hits Silence on Hiss
"A travesty on statesmanship," was the way Hall described Stevenson's silence on the Truman statements about Hiss. Hall's remarks were prepared for the Union League Club in Philadelphia.

Questioned during an interview on Sept. 3, Truman replied "no" when he was asked whether he considered Hiss a Communist spy. Truman said he had not called a congressional investigation.

Marlboro Woman Is 'Fair' After Motorboat Blast

A Marlboro woman, who was one of four persons injured Thursday evening in the explosion of a motorboat docked at Cleverdale, Lake George, was reported in "fair" condition today at Glens Falls Hospital.

Mrs. Edward J. Clark, 56, suffered burns of the face, left hand and left leg, the Warren county sheriff's office reported. Mr. Clark, 58, also a passenger in the boat, was uninjured, the report said.

Listed in "fair" condition at the hospital were:

George Beaudin, 26, of Diamond Point, burns to arms, hands, face and chest; Bernard F. Hughes, 46, of Dunkirk, burns to hands and face. Daniel S. Vetrone, 32, of Ramsey, N. J., was treated for minor burns to his legs.

Eugene Reading, 72, of Cleverdale, owner of the craft, and Mrs. Hughes, 47, also in the boat, were uninjured, the report said.

The explosion occurred about 7 p. m., as Mr. Reading was about to transport the group to the Sagamore Hotel, Bolton Landing. Cause of the blast had not been determined, the sheriff's office reported.

According to the report, Mr. Reading was unable to start the engine and called Mr. Beaudin, a mechanic.

The explosion occurred, authorities said, when Mr. Beaudin lifted the engine hatch. Mr. Beaudin, although injured, assisted the passengers to safety and pushed the burning craft into open water.

A Loudonville woman, Mrs. John Ruch, brought the injured persons in her automobile to Lake George.

THRUWAY FORCED LANDING—Propeller trouble reportedly forced this low-wing monoplane to land on the Thruway Friday about 5 p. m. between Saugerties and Catskill. Airman 1/c Richard C. Aggers, 24, of Stewart Field, the pilot, was uninjured, state police said. (Anner photo). Story on page 11.

Council Opposes Cutting GI Loans
The Ulster and Sullivan Counties Building Trades Council, AFL-CIO, today announced that it is on record as opposing the tighter money market for GI mortgage loans.

A resolution to this effect, adopted at a recent meeting of the council said:

"The Ulster and Sullivan Counties Building Trades Council, AFL-CIO deplores the trend in increased interest rates on GI mortgages and the gradual tendency to limit the number of mortgages being processed."

"This development makes it more difficult for the GI to build or to purchase new homes. We respectfully request the local financial institutions to reconsider their present decisions in order to assist those who fought in the wars for us. We prefer to believe that a banking institution has a more honest desire to help the GI provide a home for his family than to increase the interest rates for increased profits. A change in their present policy will convince us that our belief is correct."

The announcement was signed by Stephen Gill, the council's secretary-treasurer.

The resolution apparently refers to a report of a survey published in the Sept. 11 issue of The Freeman, in which it was noted that a tight money market was slowing up GI loans here and elsewhere.

U. S. Supports Canal Plan Despite Cairo War Threat

Last Convoy Goes Through Waterway

Suez, Egypt, Sept. 14 (P)—The last southbound convoy guided through the Suez Canal by foreign pilots moved through Suez tonight and out into the Red Sea.

The 16 foreign pilots who guided it left their jobs immediately afterward. As this convoy left the 103-mile-long canal, the first convoy to be piloted entirely by Egyptians began forming here for a northbound journey through the canal to Port Said.

With a midnight (5 p. m. EST) deadline for the pilots' walkout imminent, the British embassy in Cairo for the third time warned British subjects in Egypt to leave "if they have no compelling reasons for remaining."

About 2,800 are already out of the country. More than 2,000 remain.

West Moves Swiftly
London, Sept. 14 (P)—The western Big Three moved swiftly today to set up a Suez users' association with the prospect U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may make a hurried flight to London.

An American diplomatic source said he understood Dulles was coming here next week—probably Wednesday.

A British diplomatic spokesman said the invitation list for an international conference is still being drawn up—but the invitations would go out "shortly." The British Press Assn. suggested the possibility that Egypt may be among those invited. The general feeling here was that the conference would be next week—but no definite date has been announced.

Israel Sees Help
Jerusalem, Israeli sector, Sept. 14 (P)—Israel says she expects the projected Suez Canal Users' Association will establish her "rightful status as a canal user."

The government in a statement yesterday hailed the U. S. British-French plan for the association as a "stepping stone toward pacification of the mid-east area."

Since the 1948 Palestine war Egypt has barred the canal to Israeli ships and many foreign ships trading with Israel. Egypt opening day, 30 names were drawn. In the event more than 23 are available and ready for service some will be eliminated by lot to keep the panel within the maximum of 23 as required by law.

Grand Jurors

Jurors Are Selected
Available for New Term on October 1

A grand and trial jury has been drawn by Commissioner of Jurors Edwin W. Ashby for attendance at the October trial term of Supreme Court which will be convened at 11 a. m., Monday, Oct. 1, by Justice Donald S. Taylor.

In order that there may be sufficient grand jurors available to complete the necessary panel and permit organization on the which Superintendent Cloonan attended, opened Wednesday and was due to close today. It is expected that he, and possibly the department's consulting engineer will attend a discussion on the proposal in the near future, and the board might have something to announce on it at its October meeting.

Veteran Groups Are Bringing Marine Band Here October 4

The 158-year-old United States Marine Band, the oldest military symphonic musical organization in the country, will visit Kingston on Thursday, Oct. 4, at Kate Walton Field House, under the auspices of Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League and Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW, as part of its presidentially approved tour of the north-central states.

Joseph Roche of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, chairman, and Edward Whalen of the Marine Corps League, co-chairman, have announced that matinee and evening concerts will be presented with musical works by the world's finest composers and stirring marches which have brought the Marine Band acclaim from visiting dignitaries of almost every country in the world.

The 1956 tour will carry the Marine Band 8,500 miles through the north-central section of the country. It will open at Kennett Square, Pa., Sept. 16, and conclude at New Freedom, Pa., November 17.

Under the leadership of Captain Albert Schoepper, the Marine Band is known to millions of Americans through its two weekly coast to coast radio broadcasts, its frequent appearances on television and its concerts in the nation's capital. The annual tours which started under the direction of John Phillip Sousa in 1891, have afforded Americans living outside the Washington area an opportunity to see and hear the world famous Marine Band, whose history goes back farther than that of the capital city itself.

Familiarly known as "The President's Own," the Marine Band has played for every inauguration since Thomas Jefferson's. Founded in 1798 by an act of Congress, the band has played for all official functions in the nation's capital and all important history-making events in this country since that date.

The personnel of the Marine Band includes musicians carefully screened and selected

Cyprus Action Off
London, Sept. 14 (P)—British Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd said today that the grave Suez crisis makes it impossible to give Cyprus "self determination" at the present time.

Laborites raised the future of Cyprus—Britain's island base in the Mediterranean—at an emergency session of Parliament.

"Sovereignty over Cyprus," said Lennox-Boyd, "at the present state of world history is absolutely indispensable if we are going to discharge our present responsibilities."

Sterley, Hymes Receive Honors
The Savings Association League of New York State, holding its annual convention at Saranac Inn, has honored two directors of Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association of this city for their long service.

John B. Sterley, vice president of Home-Seekers' Savings, and Harry Hymes, director, were enrolled in the state League's new honor society, "The Pillars of Thrift." Mr. Sterley, who is also surrogate judge of Ulster county, is in his 29th year with the local association, and Mr. Hymes has 26 years of service.

Membership in the new honor society is confined to directors, officers, employees and counsel of member associations with 25 years of service or more. The League convention, which opened Sept. 11, closes today.

Canal Block Won't Bring Rationing

Washington, Sept. 14 (P)—The Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) today repeated its assurance that United States oil and gasoline supplies will not be curtailed even if shipments through the Suez Canal are blocked.

ODM Director Arthur S. Flemming said a month ago, in announcing creation of an American "Middle East emergency committee" of oil companies, that there would be no necessity for rationing or otherwise cutting consumption if the short route to the Persian Gulf is cut off.

Plans and studies made by the emergency committee since then confirm this view despite the heightening tension in the Middle East, an ODM spokesman said.

The plans call for substantial American help in supplying

Will Boycott Canal
Dulles said yesterday the United States would informally boycott the waterway nationalized by Nasser if Egypt balks at the new western plan. Under it, the canal users would collect ship tolls and pay Egypt for use and upkeep of the canal.

Dulles declined to describe as a "boycott" U. S. plans to avoid using the canal. He said:

Gluski Arrested Again, Tarrytown Warrant Waiting

William Gluski, 16, of 45 Riverdale avenue, Yonkers, was released yesterday afternoon under $1,000 bail and immediately arrested by Croton-on-Hudson police on a warrant which charges larceny. There was also on file in the Ulster County Sheriff's office a warrant from Tarrytown which charges larceny. That warrant was turned over to the Croton police for execution when and if Gluski is released from custody at Croton.

Gluski and two juveniles were apprehended over the past week end after the chase along the Hudson river valley after they had allegedly taken several motor boats between Catskill and Tarrytown. Gluski is being held in $1,000 bail, provided by his mother, for grand jury action on a charge of grand larceny.

The trio allegedly stole a boat downriver and rode to Catskill where they abandoned that boat, took another and later took two more from the East Kingston area. At Highland one of the boats was recognized by a former owner and police were alerted. The chase began and extended over 100 miles of river front. They were later apprehended and Gluski was arraigned before Justice Millard Davis of town of Ulster and held for grand jury action. The two minors were released for a hearing later in Children's court.

President Flying to Conference

Ike, Dulles Are To Meet Menzies

Washington, Sept. 14 (P)—With President Eisenhower taking a personal role in the Suez Canal crisis, the United States pushed ahead today with the latest western plan despite Egypt's cry that such a course "means war."

Eisenhower arranged to fly here from his farm estate at Gettysburg, Pa., for a mid-afternoon (3 p. m. EDT) discussion of Suez developments with Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies.

Headed Commission
Menzies headed a five-nation commission which sought vainly to get Egyptian President Nasser to agree to international operation of the canal.

Secretary of State Dulles planned to meet with Menzies an hour in advance of the White House session to review developments.

U. S. officials were reported somewhat disturbed but not gravely worried by Egypt's violent reaction to the new western move. They viewed it more as a near-hysterical outburst rather than as a positive sign war would result.

Dulles was said to be discounting Egypt's threats and seeking to line up the world's biggest noncommunist shipping countries into a canal users' association. Once organized, these nations would offer to move their own ships, loaded by non-Egyptian pilots, through the canal.

Dulles Heartened
The hope is that Egypt would go along. If Egypt blocked the waterway to these vessels, Dulles has pledged that this government "does not intend to shoot its way through" despite its claim that it has transit rights which Egypt can not nullify.

Dulles was reported heartened informants said, by British Prime Minister Eden's promise last night to demand United Nations Security Council action in such an event.

This British attitude seemed to parallel that expressed by Dulles yesterday when he said it would be a clear violation of Egypt's promise to abide by an 1888 convention keeping the canal open to all.

Jordan Says 21 Killed in Raid

Jerusalem, Sept. 14 (AP)—A Jordan military source said today 21 Jordan soldiers were killed, wounded or are missing in an Israeli raid on a police post at Gharandal in South Jordan last night. He said a force of 1,000 Israelis made the attack.

Later, in Amman, Jordan's capital, a military spokesman gave a different tally. He said 10 persons—five Jordan policemen, two national guardsmen and three civilians—were slain and that four guardsmen were missing.

It was the second attack on a Jordan post along the Israeli demarcation line that has been reported by Jordan in three days. Twenty Jordanians were reported killed at Rahwa in a two-hour battle Wednesday.

The Jordan source said the attackers at Gharandal, a village about half way between the Dead Sea and Red Sea, used heavy weapons and were supported by three planes which bombed the area.

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The New York Giants want to stay in the Eastern League but so far they have made no definite commitment with any club. Carl Hubbell said today. The former pitching star, now director of the National League club's farm system, said "we're still shopping around. He hope to make some move within a week. The situation at Elmira still is in the talking stage. "We have a preference for the Eastern League when it comes to Class A ball," he added, "and we want to stay in it."

The afternoon session in the new library set up the organization for a teacher's workshop on curriculum. Each teacher was assigned to a committee and committees for each field of study were formed.

Wednesday and Thursday mornings were devoted to the workshop with elementary and high school staff meetings Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Friday morning reports were made by the chairmen of the workshop committees. Each stated their aims and laid the groundwork for a continued program from elementary through the high school level. The workshop was the preliminary step in the year's study for curriculum development.

Each teacher worked to make order for Monday, with the men faculty members shouldering the moving furniture to the new areas. Some returned to complete the work Saturday.

Monday morning school began for the students. Credit for orderliness was in large part due to the student guides headed by Carolyn Hogan, new president of the Student Council. Guides are Joanne Misner, Katherine Zimmerman, Carol Bastian, Joan Kopper, Eileen Murphy, Mary Jacobson, Lorraine Ellis, Meta Petersen and Ethel Schiro.

GOP Asks Fund Probe

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—Twenty-five Republican candidates for the state Senate called today for an investigation of the pre-convention spending in behalf of Gov. Averell Harriman's unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The state senatorial candidates, meeting to map out campaign strategy, adopted a resolution which asked for a U. S. Senatorial investigation "to determine if there was any violation of the Corrupt Practices Act" in connection with the Harriman nomination campaign.

The resolution took notice in formal language that 2 million dollars had been spent in Harriman's bid to head the Democratic ticket.

Hurricanes May Skip Mainland, Forecaster Says

Miami, Fla., Sept. 14 (AP)—The world's top hurricane forecaster, Gordon Dunn, said today there's a good chance that none of these tropical horrors will visit the U. S. this year.

Good news? Well, not to everybody.

Florida Needs Rain

Florida could use the torrential rains that always accompany them. Water tables are far below normal.

And Richard Simpson, head of the National Hurricane Research Project, wants to see some hurricanes.

The research project, launched this year, is intended to perfect long-distance hurricane forecasts and to find some way to divert or weaken the more dangerous tropical storms.

Housing Leader Resigns Because Council Won't Act

Alexander Goldberg, who had served as a member of Poughkeepsie's housing authority for eight years, yesterday announced his resignation because of lack of Common Council action on a proposed $3,000,000 project for the city.

Goldberg, who had served one year as the authority's chairman, held that the council should give "either a red light or a green light" on the proposed project, which would add 200 dwelling units to the city's housing facilities.

The resignation leaves two vacancies on the authority. No successor has been named for the Rev. Dr. Philip Allen Swartz, former chairman, whose term expired Aug. 1.

Goldberg said his decision to resign was prompted in part, by the council's failure to act, one way or the other, on the project.

IBM Unveils More

Random Access Memory were demonstrated at the IBM Glendale Engineering Laboratories near Endicott. The 355-RAM unit, is a stack of discs capable of storing millions of facts and figures, each recallable electronically in less than a second.

IBM unveiled at its New York city headquarters this week a standard electric typewriter with a built-in "electronic intelligence" that can "read" unprepared business forms containing blanks fill-ins and program the typewriter carriage to stop at the correct typing point.

Bargain Day

Ottawa, Ill. (AP)—Bargain day proved to be no bargain for Miss Vieta Gardner when she was pushed by jostling bargain hunters in a local department store. She claims a $40,000 damage suit that the store placed a sales counter at the head of the basement stair and that the stairs had no adequate railing on which to support herself when she fell.

Undergoing Restoration
Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776, is undergoing a $30 million restoration project.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The stock market remained on the upside early this afternoon but many initial advances were cut. Steels, motors, aircrafts, rails and oils had fairly active turnover on estimated volume about the same as yesterday's two million shares.

Leading issue held gains of from fractions to about a point, retreating from the earlier range of about 2 points or so.

While the two major political parties were rolling into position for the heavy campaigning to come, some 200 delegates met at a National State Rights Conference in Memphis, Tenn.

Plan Coalition

Representing about a dozen splinter parties, the group hopes to form a coalition strong enough to throw the presidential election into the House of Representatives.

The parties joining in the States Rights Conference will be urged to support this ticket: for president, T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond, Va., a Democrat who served as Internal Revenue Commissioner under Eisenhower. For vice president, T. H. Werdell of Bakersfield, Calif., a former Republican Representative in Congress.

Other political development:

A Senate elections subcommittee, which is keeping tabs on political spending, formally asked yesterday for a list of all persons or groups buying 10 or more of the $50 tickets to the Harrisburg fund-raising affair which Stevenson addressed.

Sea Crash Story Told, Data Given on Cancer at Meeting

His reaction as a passenger on the liner Stockholm when it was in collision with the ill-fated Andrea Dorea was described at a meeting of the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church, Wednesday evening, by Dr. Paul R. Gerhardt, director of the Bureau of Cancer, State Department of Health, who also discussed research in his field.

The two ships collided July 25 and the Stockholm was the less seriously damaged of the two. Dr. Gerhardt, expressing his complete devotion to cancer control, said he reluctantly consented to discuss the maritime accident at the insistence of Charles M. Rinschler, Men's Club president.

Dr. Gerhardt, who is also chairman of the executive committee of New York State Division, American Cancer Society, was the speaker at the club's first dinner meeting following its summer recess. The meeting was held in Bethany Hall of the church.

Crew Is Praised

His description of the maritime collision included an account of a "terrific crash," the ship evacuation and praise for the crew.

Dr. Gerhardt said he and his family were passengers on the Stockholm and, tired from the excitement of preparation for their first trip to Europe, retired about 9:30 the first night out.

At 11:20 p. m., a "terrific crash sent everything in the room topsy-turvy," he told his audience.

No Time for Drills

The speaker had praise for the crew, which assisted passengers in donning life jackets and getting to lifeboat stations. He pointed out that since the ship was only a few hours out of harbor, there had been no time for life drills prior to the mishap.

The greatest shock came after the ship limped back to port and the passengers were able to see from the dock the amount of damage done to the Stockholm's bow, he said.

Dr. Gerhardt told of the encouraging progress through research in cancer treatment and warned that the greatest problem is lack of early detection.

To Hit 25 Per Cent

"Cancer will effect at least 25 per cent of all people living in the United States today," he said.

Lack of early detection, Dr. Gerhardt said, is attributed to the fact that cancer in its early stages "does not give pain," and therefore many people fail to have needed examinations.

Also, there is no single test to determine if a patient has cancer—only a complete examination can detect all types of cancer.

Quotes Figures

On the relationship of cigarette smoking to lung cancer, Dr. Gerhardt cited studies made at the state cancer hospital in Buffalo to support his contention that "we feel about 50 per cent of lung cancer is caused by heavy cigarette smoking." In the past 20 years, the male death rate from lung cancer has increased 505 per cent in upstate New York, he reported.

He advised: cut down on smoking, have a chest X-ray annually, and after the age of 45 every six months. "Don't fear cancer," he said. "At least 25 per cent of cancer cases are cured now, and another 25 per cent could be cured if the patient came in (for treatment) in time."

Also at the club meeting, the King's Tones quartette from the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America gave several selections. Members of the group were: Warren Neals, tenor; Ronald Gibbons, lead; Phil Arnet, baritone, and William Lahl, bass.

About 80 men attended the meeting. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the church, gave the invocation.

PRICELESS RESOURCE

News from Washington that the Department of Labor is preparing to spend almost half a million dollars in the next few months to develop more job opportunities for older workers is welcome, indeed. It is high time that the nation cashed in on the priceless economic and social assets of its older people.

We have made a fetish of youth in this age. Somehow or other the ridiculous notion has got abroad that life ends in the 20's. There are plenty of firms that refuse to hire persons over 40, and some even frown on applicants in their 30's.

Studies of older workers show that prejudices against the middle-aged have almost no basis in fact. They rest on misconceptions and on a kind of mysterious economic folklore. Actually, older workers compare very favorably with youth in almost everything — productivity, health, skill, punctuality and attention to duties.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell deserves our thanks for urging state employment agencies to get busy at once on placing older workers. These need counseling, supervision and assistance in getting employment. It will be a big job to break down the old, built-up prejudices of prospective employers, but it is a job well worth doing.

America's older workers have untold resources of experience and knowledge. They have been seasoned by the passing years. We will be really smart if we cash in on these resources. They shouldn't be allowed to go to waste.

GET THAT DIPLOMA!

The federal government, through its Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Department of Labor, has a word of advice for all American youth. It goes like this: Get that high school diploma!

Thousands of teen-agers are now back in school and, doubtless, many of them are thinking of the football season, school dances and dates. As who wouldn't at 16? But along with the froth of high school, it is to be earnestly hoped that they are absorbing some of the solid substance of education. They'll need it in the years ahead.

Government statistics show that at the peak of earnings, the high school graduate will collect 30 per cent more than the non-graduate. In his adult earning period the high school graduate earns much more than the dropout who, usually, is restricted to the lower paying jobs.

Competition, from an educational viewpoint, is getting tougher in the United States. Forty-five years ago, one-third of the nation's workers were unskilled. Today, less than a fifth of the labor force is unskilled and, furthermore, the percentage is shrinking rapidly. Ten years ago, only about 40 per cent of those who entered high school earned diplomas. Today, it is 55 per cent.

In brief, training and education pay off. And there is more pressure in the working world for educated skills. The youngster without these is indeed handicapped in today's competitive society. The government advice is good: Get that diploma.

The fellow with a really tough time is the one who has to rake the leaves from his lawn and then cut it.

DREAMY DRIVERS

In the horse and buggy era, transportation and meditation often went together. A man could roll sedately along the street, contemplating finer things, with reasonable expectation of getting home in due course without wounds or bruises. There was a place, in that era, for the dreamy driver.

Not so in our time. When he gets behind the wheel of a modern car champing with horsepower, the dreamy driver becomes a menace. He becomes a menace not only to himself, but to every other motorist that comes within range.

The truth is that driving, under modern conditions, requires alertness above all else. There is no place for the dreamy driver. He belongs at home.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
A POINT OF VIEW

Paul Hoffman of the Fund for the Republic delivered a most interesting address on how to keep America strong and free. In effect, it is a defense of the Fund for the Republic and its work, but what Hoffman says is of value because it explains how different men can believe that they are aiming at the same target while actually each believes that the other has missed altogether.

Hoffman's contention is that he and his Fund for the Republic are fighting Communism. Most active and long-time anti-Communists would say that both Hoffman and his Fund are running interference for the Communists. To that Hoffman has replied, in advance, as follows:

"When I left the ECA in the fall of 1950 to join the Ford Foundation, I took a look at what was going on in America in the name of fighting Communism—I was shocked and appalled. In too many instances I found the Bill of Rights being trampled upon, freedom of speech and inquiry being flaunted and guilt by association replacing due process of law. People labeled as controversial were being denied the use of public auditoriums. Irresponsible publicity seekers were accusing everyone who did not agree with their methods of fighting Communists of being soft on Communism."

It is all in the point of view. If the target is the same, namely, the elimination of Communism from American life, the difference arises to a degree from the difference in experience. It would be of value to read a bill of particulars on how the Bill of Rights were trampled upon. Who did the trampling?

The phrase, the Bill of Rights, appears nowhere in our Constitution but it generally refers to the first ten amendments, which are no more important than any other clauses of the Constitution. The Constitution has to be taken as a whole and for a correct study of it, it is necessary to read a good many of the decisions of the Supreme Court which not only explain the meaning of the phraseology but often so define and orient the law as to become part of the Constitution itself. This is particularly true of the decisions of Chief Justice John Marshall who had the task of pioneering in judicial interpretation.

All this being so, it would be interesting to know precisely what Hoffman meant when he said that freedom of speech and inquiry were "being flaunted." I do not know of an instance of a Communist speaker being arrested for making a Communist speech or of an inquiry into any field of human knowledge being what Hoffman calls "flaunted." The reply might be that everybody knows what Paul Hoffman means, but hearsay is not knowledge. On the other hand, I think that I could without difficulty produce a list of anti-Communists who have lost the opportunity to be heard. Maybe they lacked in ability, but it is singular that so many of them should have been discarded.

The whole matter of "guilt by association" is again a question of legalistic interpretation. Paul Hoffman himself uses the phrase in this speech, "Communist conspiracy in the United States." A conspiracy cannot be conducted by one man alone. A conspiracy, to be such in the eyes of the law, involves two or more persons in association to do something which they should not do. Therefore, if there is a conspiracy, it is necessary to have conspirators. Every conspiracy involves guilt by association, guilt by consorting. In municipal law, for instance, in some places, the police are empowered to arrest one for consorting with a known criminal.

If therefore one associates constantly with Communists, it is possible to say that the person has a reason for preferring them, for consorting with them. Association with a Communist is no crime, but it discloses a preference and creates a reason for doubt and even wonderment.

Paul Hoffman, in his speech, said:
"Only a handful of maladjusted, tormented, rebellious Americans ever subscribed to the weird Marxist ideology."

I only wish that were true. Marxian ideas are not in 1956 as weird as they appeared to be in 1917. They have worked their way into many fields of intellectual activity, particularly the concept of man being a product of his environment. Of the tools he uses. This basic Marxian idea has moved far into much of the life of the world in 1956.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
THE APPENDIX

I have been trying lately to write a little more about surgery and the conditions in which it becomes necessary or desirable because I feel that as a physician I tend to write almost exclusively about medicine rather than surgery. However, there are extremely few of us who go through life without an operation of some type, be it tonsillectomy, adenectomy, or appendectomy. In the valuable handbook "Understanding Surgery" we read that appendicitis (inflammation of the appendix) which is the commonest of all conditions requiring abdominal surgery, was practically unrecognized until 1886. Prior to that time there were a few scattered medical articles on inflammation of the appendix but the world literature and historical writings appears to be completely lacking in reference to this condition. We must really suspect that modern methods of living and eating have brought on an abrupt increase in the number of cases of this disease.

The appendix itself is a worm-like structure connected to and projecting down from the first portion of the large intestine located in the right lower part of the abdomen. It serves no purpose that we know of in modern human beings and is thought to be left over from our primitive past. Normally, it is the thickness of a lead pencil and varies in length from about one and one-half to eight inches. When inflamed, infected, filled with puss or gangrenous due to impairment of its blood supply, it may be found to be enlarged to eight to ten times its usual size. The appendix is not always found in the same position in every individual and may be found in any one of eight or nine different positions within the abdomen. Because of this, when inflamed it can cause symptoms which resemble disease of almost any other abdominal organ such as the ovary or fallopian tube, the urinary bladder, the kidney, the gall bladder, the liver, the stomach or the large bowel.

Acute appendicitis occurs in both sexes, slightly more often in the males than in females, at any age from a few months to ninety or more years. It is seen most frequently in young adults in their 20's, 30's and 40's. It usually comes on abruptly, with generalized cramps throughout the upper and lower abdomen, nausea and vomiting, and a slight rise in temperature. Then, within six to eighteen hours, the pain localizes itself to the right lower part of the abdomen. The patient is usually somewhat constipated and has little or no appetite. Examination by the physician reveals tenderness and spasm of the abdominal muscles in the right lower portion. A blood count, very often done to confirm the diagnosis, will show an increase in the white blood cells (the disease fighters).

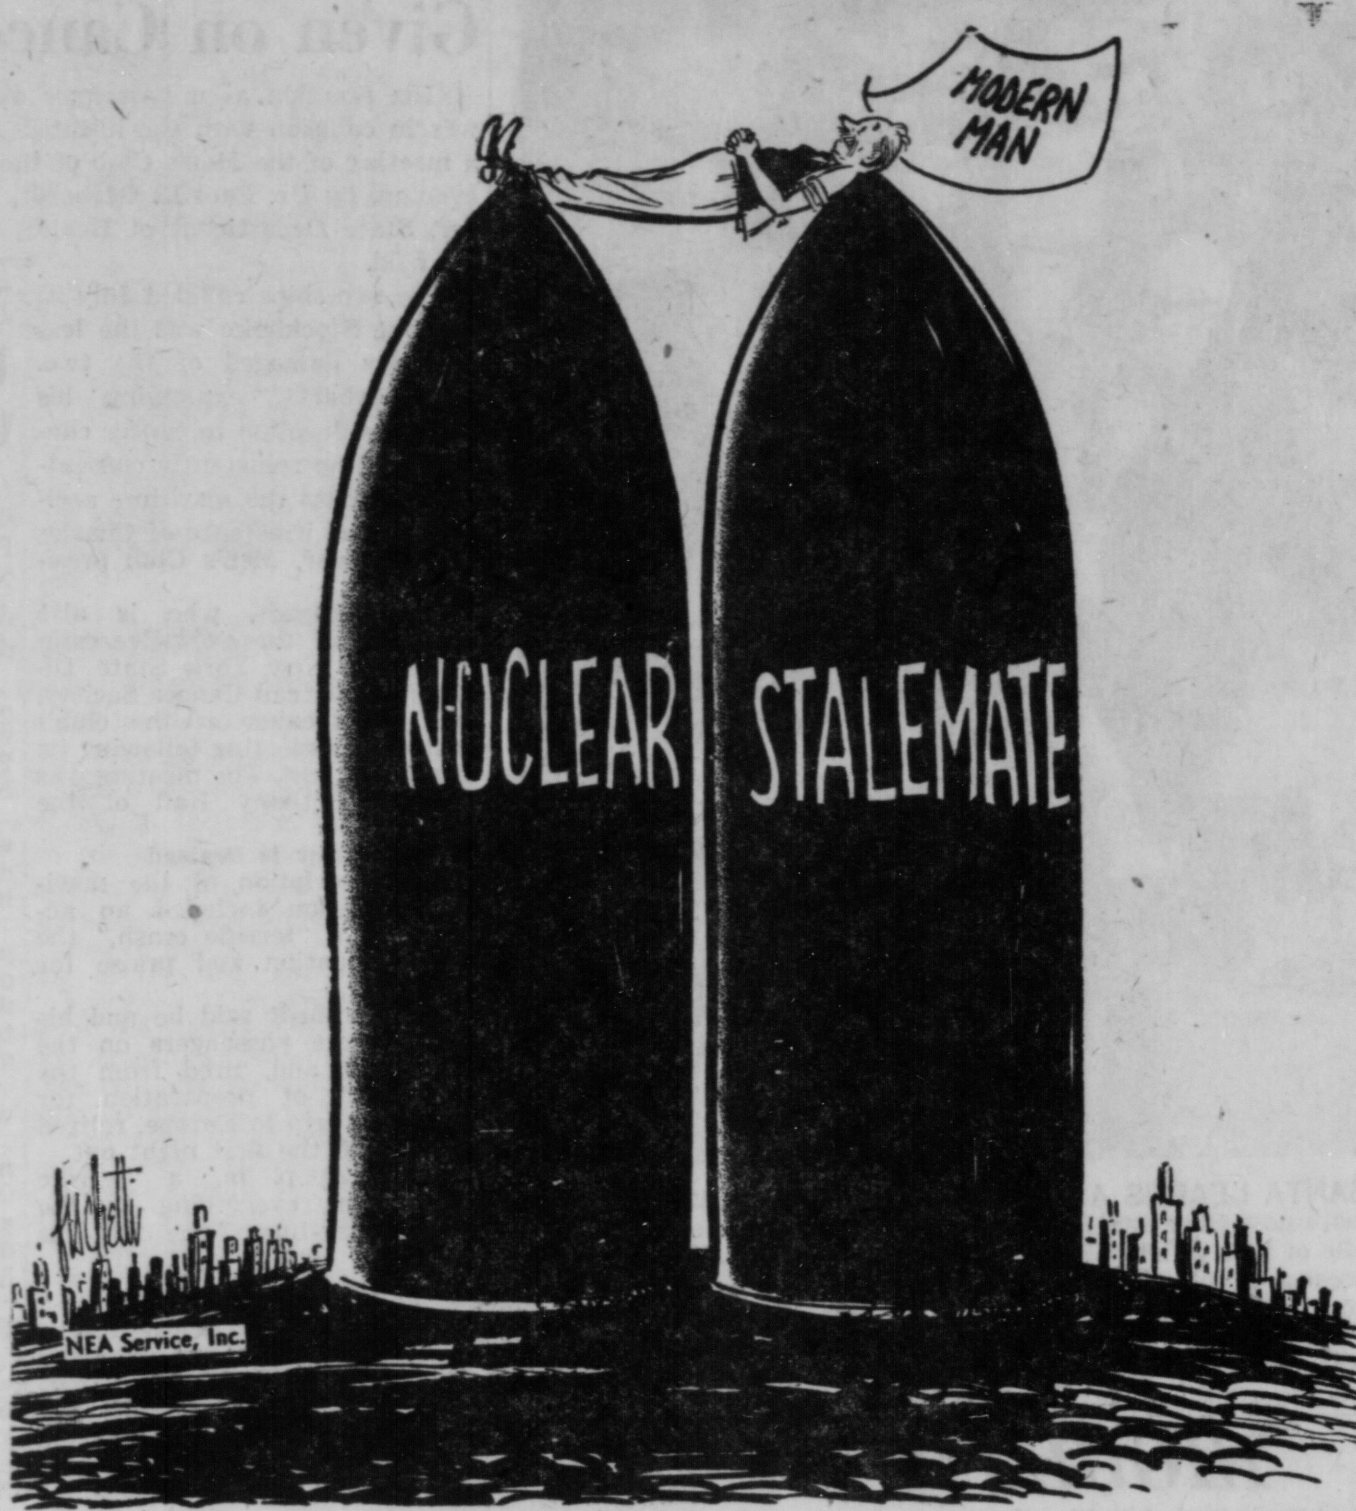

Tomorrow we will consider the actual operation for removal of the appendix—appendectomy.

Constipation

While the bowel habit in various persons may be entirely different, once a day for some, twice for others, every other day for still others, we all realize the value of "regular" habit. Send for Dr. Barton's helpful booklet "Constipation," enclosing 25 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Not Comfortable---But Still Alive

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington—(NEA)—American participation in the Suez Canal discussions in Cairo may mark an important step toward far greater U. S. involvement in African affairs of the future.

Since the Barbary pirate days, the United States has steered clear of mixing in the affairs of Africa largely because it was a European sphere of influence.

That this situation cannot long continue is the main argument of a new book by Chester Bowles, entitled "Africa's Challenge to America," just published by University of California Press.

Bowles, former U. S. Ambassador to India, went to Africa on his own for a first-hand look.

He does not advocate any multi-billion dollar aid program for Africa, as he did for India. His principal plea is for a reappraisal of U. S.-African policy as a factor in future world peace and stability.

INSTEAD OF TAKING 1,000 pages to discuss this subject, Bowles condenses it in 130 pages, which makes it easy to grasp.

He gives both the materialistic and the altruistic reasons for greater American interest in Africa.

From a perfectly selfish point of view, Bowles calls attention to the fact that the United States now imports half of the raw materials it consumes. By 1970 this rate of consumption will be doubled.

If the United States were cut off from the apparently limitless mineral reservoir of Africa, says Bowles, we would face formidable difficulties within 10 years. This would be true even though the resources of Canada and South American remained available.

From the ideological viewpoint, Bowles repeats the warning frequently made by others.

This concerns the Communist cold war threat of economic penetration of Africa. If it wins, it would foreclose African resources for the free world.

BOWLES PICTURES Africa today as the last stand of European colonialism.

Of Africa's 30-odd "nations" only six are independent today. Another six have prospects of independence by 1960.

The 12 include only half of Africa's 200 million people. They are scattered in an area bigger than the United States, China and India combined, with a billion people.

Country by country, Bowles outlines the fierce drive for total independence in Africa today.

The racial problems created by some 800 illiterate tribes and semi-civilized natives with no measurable living standard whatever make the U. S. segregation issue seem like a mere traffic jam in comparison.

One bloody racial riot in Johannesburg or Capetown could turn all Africa against the white man, create new tensions in Asia, hasten the world swing to communism and end in one of the ugliest explosions of violence in all history, says the author.

From the isolationist point of view, this would make Africa a good place for the United States to stay out of. From the internationalist's viewpoint, the U. S. has a role.

THE MAIN THING the African nationalist leaders want from the U. S., says Bowles, is moral support for American ideals of freedom and independence.

The main contribution which the United States can make, Bowles believes, is in support of the African nations in the United Nations and its Trusteeship Council.

Through UN organizations, much can be done to prepare non-self-governing territories for independence at specified future dates. This was the pattern followed by the United States in preparing the Philippines for its independence.

Up to now, U. S. policy in both Democratic and Republican administrations has been that the troubles of Africa were internal matters in which the UN had no concern.

Users' 'Picket Lines' Held Way to Win 'Battle of Suez'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 14—There isn't the slightest need to use military force to win the "battle of Suez." It isn't necessary to risk human lives. If the governments of Great Britain, France and the United States choose to take a lesson from the labor unions and adopt one of their favorite techniques, Col. Nasser will find himself compelled to yield to reason and a sensible settlement of the controversy.

In a sense, the British, French and American statement just issued is a start in that direction. For what the three governments have done is to form an organization of "users." In the vocabulary of the industrial world, these are analogous to the "buyers." Now buyers can be persuaded to employ the boycott, and they can refuse to cross a picket line.

The "picket lines" in this case are at the entrance and the exit to the Suez Canal—international waters. Egypt remains the owner of only the water inside the canal. She is as "sovereign" as are the "stockholders" probably just as helpless. For the "users" can be persuaded not to use the canal—that is, not to cross "picket lines" until satisfactory terms are obtained.

It would not be necessary to station warships on the "picket lines" to prevent any commercial ships from using the canal because enough of the "users" would themselves respect the "picket lines." With a strike of the pilots going on, traffic would not be as safe as before, anyhow.

The "users" of the canal are really the private shipping companies. They can be organized for their own protection. They can stipulate the conditions under which the Suez Canal will or will not be used. It doesn't need to be a governmental body.

Economic Lever
Thus, the power of decision would pass into the hands of those who really can wield economic pressure.

If it turns out that the Egyptian government, which claims "sovereignty" over the canal, will not agree to let the operation become a private affair, between the shipping companies and the canal company, which is to be entirely owned by the Egyptian government and to receive all profits—then other means of handling the traffic between the Indian Ocean and the Atlantic Ocean will have to be devised.

For one thing, if the Suez Canal isn't to be efficiently operated, there's not much use in investors lending money to Egypt to have it widened so as to accommodate larger tankers. It would be better to put the money into the building of huge tankers to carry the oil around the Cape of Good Hope. The American government is considering a plan to finance such a tanker-construction program. After figuring the savings in tolls and the time saved in putting so much more in a single cargo than ever before, the net result might be such as to render the Suez Canal superfluous.

But before such a program is embarked upon, a "strike" has to be carried on and decided one way or the other. Faced by the facts of life, Col. Nasser will have to cease quibbling about "sovereignty" and turn his mind to the practical problem of operation. This is what the British, French and American governments now have done, and they have invited "users" from other countries to join them.

Strictly Business

Hence, the whole problem ceases to be an issue for war or for military threats and becomes a business proposition which Nasser is free to accept or reject. Like many an employer, he can shut down his operation and refuse to grant the demands of the "strikers," or he can bargain and come to an agreement.

The presence of Allied warships and paratroopers and mobile forces may have been a wise precaution in case Nasser should threaten any harm to foreign citizens resident in Egypt, but military action is wholly unnecessary as a means of settling the dispute over how the canal shall be operated.

This controversy is today, and has all along been basically an economic matter. It is solvable by economic pressure. Nasser needs the canal to get revenue. The "users" need the canal for economy's sake. But they want a showdown as to whether they are to be subject to extortion on tolls or confiscation of their property without a satisfactory plan of compensation. The "strike" of Suez pilots will accelerate the transfer of the issue from the intangibles of political nationalism to the tangibles of economic negotiation.

Kingston Rabbis Urge Purchases Of Israel Bonds

An appeal by Kingston's three rabbis was made today for the public support of the Israel bond sales during September.

The appeal, made by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Temple Emanuel; Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport, Congregation Agudas Achim and Rabbi Jacob I. Rubenstein, Congregation Ahavath Israel, was released by Joseph Honig, chairman of the Kingston area sale campaign.

Meanwhile, the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, will be observed tonight at divine services in the various city synagogues.

The following is the appeal for the public participation in the Israel bond sales:

"On the eve of the New Year 5717, even as we rejoice in the freedom and bounty that are the portion of American Jewry, we cannot for one minute shut our eyes to the dark clouds that hang over our people in Israel.

"These are the gravest months Israel has lived through since the critical days of 1948. Every able-bodied man and woman must give strength to the defense of the nation, in the cities as in the border settlements. The hands that want so much to work and build must also prepare for any emergency. The resources created for peace must be channeled into security measures.

"Yet, even under their heavy burdens, Israel's people do not know fear or despair. They are resilient; they are stouthearted; they are dedicated. And they know they are not alone. We are at their side, determined to lend them the strength that we have in abundance and that they so urgently need.

"We have been steadfastly at their side from the beginning, through our participation in the Israel Bond campaign. We can see the fruits of our efforts in the glorious achievements they have helped to make possible.

"It is to the eternal credit of our brethren in the State of Israel that they have come so far in so little time. Struggling valiantly against tremendous odds, the homeless, the oppressed, the weary have made a new life for themselves and their children. The hundreds of thousands who poured into Israel from backward areas have learned new, modern skills. All of them, the new settlers and the old, have given new meaning to the cherished ideals of brotherhood and liberty that have inspired the Jewish people from the days of Abraham and Moses.

"Because of them, we can hold our heads higher, proud that we share in their heritage and their accomplishments.

"Let us, at the very opening of this New Year give heart and hope to Israel's people in their hour of trial. The Israel Bonds in which we invest today are the clearest, the strongest, the finest way to reassert our faith in freedom and in the future."

New Cold Air Hits North Midwest Areas

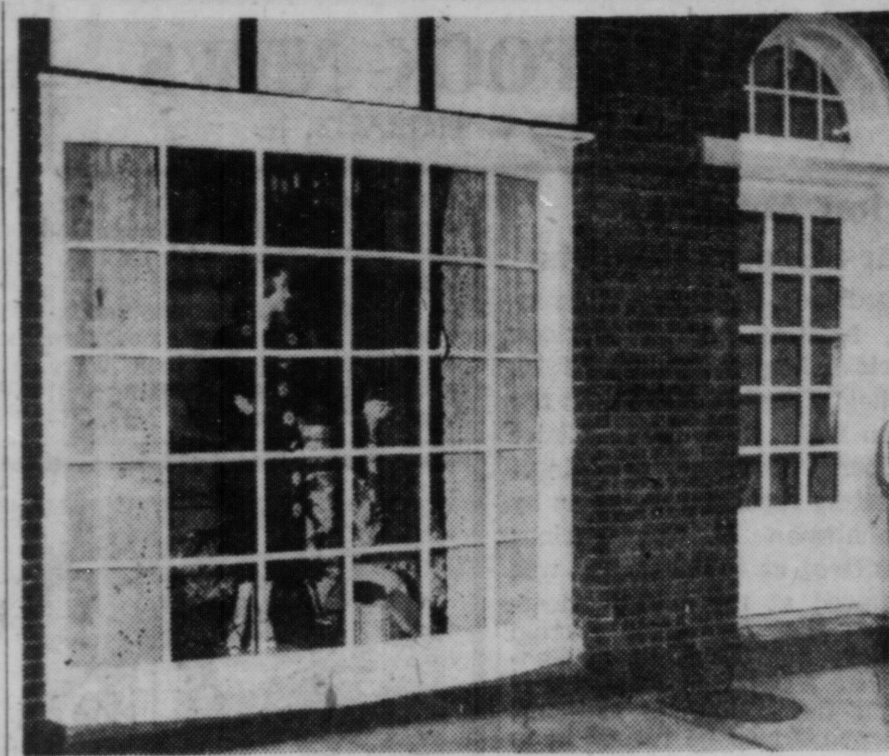

(By The Associated Press)

A new invasion of cold air drove its front deep into the northern reaches of the Midwest today. But summery warmth pervaded the northeast.

In other sections, temperature changes were not great. The southwest was hot, the northwest cool, and much of the rest of the nation was warm for September.

The new cold surge dropped temperatures 20 degrees over much of the northern plains, upper Mississippi valley and western Great Lakes. Grand Forks had a midnight 32 degrees—23 degrees lower than the previous midnight. In the warm northeast, Syracuse, N. Y., had an early morning reading of 77 degrees, 19 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier.

HELEN DAVENPORT'S NEW SHOP—After two months of renovation in the former Wiltwyck Inn, 48 Main street, an exclusive new dress shop has been opened by George and Helen Davenport, formerly located in the Governor Clinton Hotel. The modern, attractive shop, tastefully furnished, opened last Monday. The shop occupies the front portion of the three-story building purchased by the Davenports late last May. After 23 years in the Governor Clinton Hotel the Davenports were forced to find another location due to the need for additional space. An outstanding feature of the shop is the large Colonial show window which "suits the city and the building." An imported French chandelier hangs from a white ceiling and wall-to-wall coffee-colored carpeting covers the floor. The walls are pale pink and the furniture antique from the Empire Period. The window was designed by Mrs. Davenport and executed by Floyd S. Wilber of Kingston. When completed it fitted into place within an eighth of an inch, according to Mrs. Davenport. The shop also has two attractive dressing rooms, alteration room, stock room and office. The shop handles exclusive dresses, jewelry, hats, hosiery, gloves, etc. Mrs. Davenport will supervise all selling. Carpeting was by Kaplan Furniture Co., electricity by Joe E. O'Connor, heating by Lester Cole, painting by Leo Yonnatti, roofing and siding by Smith-Parish, John Provenzano, floors, M. H. Felsen was the contractor. Mrs. Arthur Melchior purchased the upholstery and fabrics for the furniture and George Dahl of Eddyville fitted the material. (Freeman photo)

West cards, but she found a way to get out of trouble.

Mrs. Wells opened the king of clubs and thought carefully before leading to the second trick. Either East or South had started with a singleton club, and it made quite a difference.

If South had started with a singleton club, there was probably no chance to defeat the contract. West would probably get a club and a diamond, but nothing else.

Mrs. Wells therefore decided to assume that her partner had started with a singleton club. Acting on this assumption, she led the jack of clubs at the second trick!

Dean Cook, another well-known San Francisco expert, held the East cards. He ruffed the second club and saw at a glance that the unnaturally high play in clubs asked him to return a high-ranking side suit. Obeying the request, Cook returned the king of spades.

South played the ace of spades, and Mrs. Wells ruffed. Now she could lead the ace of clubs to exit safely. South had to ruff and eventually had to give up a spade trick to East, losing his game contract.

Spot Saved

Omaha (AP)—A tired, perspiring motorist finally found a curbside parking place in downtown Omaha, deftly backed his car in, and happily made his way to deposit a coin in the meter. There he was greeted by an irate woman who told him to move on, she was saving the parking place for her husband who had gone down the street to get the car.

Harriman Advises Salk Shots for Those Under 40

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has advised adult New Yorkers, particularly those under 40, to see their family physician about obtaining Salk polio vaccine.

The governor offered the advice yesterday when he urged vaccination of all children in New York state who have not yet received protection against polio.

"To date, in the state as a whole," he said, "only 72 per cent of those eligible have had even one shot of Salk vaccine, while only 50 per cent of the eligibles have had their second shot."

Those eligible for free vaccine are children aged six months through 19 years, and pregnant women. Other persons may obtain the vaccine commercially through private physicians.

Harriman cited a recent report from the state health commissioner, Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, indicating a total of 314 polio cases so far this year in the 57 counties outside New York city, as demonstrating the value of the Salk vaccine.

The figure compares with 920 cases at the same stage last year, and an average of 822 in the four years just before the Salk vaccine was introduced, Harriman said.

Road Firms Can Keep Up With Building Plans

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—New York state's road builders can meet the challenge of keeping abreast of the 500 million dollar construction program planned by the state, an industry spokesman said today.

H. V. Owens, chairman of the Joint Highway Construction Industries Committee of New York State, said in a statement the industry could handle more than 400 million dollars of road building in the state and each succeeding year without "straining at the seams."

Owens noted that in 1953 New York's highway construction industry executed 109 million dollars in state highway contracts and more than 252 million in thruway work.

"We had many road builders in the state who could have undertaken more work if it was available," he said.

Owens predicted that the road building industry would rise to any challenge made of it and that the contractors could "construct all the roads the people want constructed."

Methodist Parish Schedules Activities

Woodstock, Sept. 13—The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will preach Sunday a sermon titled, "One-half the World—Starving, Illiterate...and Non-Christian, And What are You Going to Do About It?" in the churches of the Methodist Parish. This sermon will hold before the people the challenge of Christian missions. What will the Christian do about missions? Is there enough Christianity to spare?

A group of 13 people met at the Methodist parsonage in Woodstock Monday night, to organize a Wesleyan Service Guild. This is an organization of Christian women for the purpose of inspiration, fellowship, study,

Twin Automobiles

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Two cars—same make, same color, same model—collided on a street here without causing serious damage and without injuring the occupants. But in the excitement that followed, Mike Wright, one of the drivers, climbed into Leon Huey's vehicle and drove away—leaving his own car at the scene of the accident. Police contacted Wright by tracing his license number. He hurried back to make another swap.

Synthetic Rubber Due for Big Output by Firms, Report Says

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The synthetic rubber industry, a wartime baby raised by the government and turned over to private industry last year, appears ready for a big bounce on its own.

DuPont is starting test runs this weekend on a new plant at Montague, Mich., which is expected to add 50 million pounds a year to its production of neoprene, one of the four basic types of synthetic rubber.

The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Products Division earlier this week announced development of a cheaper, quicker process for making synthetic rubber latex.

Reports in rubber industry circles say that Esso Research and Engineering Co. is about ready to unveil a unique rubber material for the transportation field.

Spurred by War

Production of synthetic rubber, discovered several years earlier, had to be stepped up in a hurry during World War 2 when the Japanese cut off supplies of natural rubber from Malaya. It wasn't until April, 1955, that the government felt it was safe to sell its war-spawned synthetic rubber plants to private industry.

During 1955, synthetic rubber accounted for nearly 60 per cent of the new rubber consumed in the United States with sales of $94,900 long tons. Industry plans call for expansion to more than 1,300,000 long tons of synthetic in 1957.

Started by U. S.

About 80 per cent of the synthetic now produced is from the former government plants and is known as GR-S, meaning government rubber made of butadiene and styrene.

An offshoot of this type, called Buna N and made from butadiene and acrylonitrile, accounts for another 5 per cent.

Dupont's neoprene, made from chloroprene, makes up about 9 per cent and butyl, developed by Esso Research and Engineering from isobutylene, the remaining 6 per cent.

Both neoprene and butyl synthetic rubber also were produced by the government during World War 2.

Trio Will Tour World on Horses

Pryor, Okla., Sept. 14 (AP)—Around the world on horseback. Sounds impossible? Crazy? Maybe, but not to three members of a Pryor, Okla. family who plan just such a trip starting Thursday.

The venturesome trio are Jesse Moore, 41, and two of his children, 21-year-old Lloyd, and 15-year-old Dorothy. With two pack horses and their own mounts and traveling light, they will start for Mexico on a trek they figure will keep them away from home at least four years.

To Moore, who owns a 210-acre farm just north of here in northeastern Oklahoma, the trip is neither impossible nor crazy. He has his reasons for the unusual journey. "I have wanted to do this for years," he explained. "It's one of those things you keep putting off and finally I decided to pick a date and go. I want to meet people and study their customs and the way they live."

"It's sort of a private good will tour."

Rates Are Doubled On Suez Shipments

London, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Institute of London Underwriters today more than doubled "war risk" insurance rates on shipments passing through the Suez canal.

Similar increases were put into effect on ships calling at Egyptian ports.

The old rates — generally 2 shillings (28 cents) on 100 pounds ($280)—were hiked to 5 shillings (70 cents).

The new rates affect policies covering war, strikes, riots and civil commotion.

BABSON DISCUSSES SUEZ SCARE

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 13 —The Egyptian trouble will not result in any war, Sir Anthony Eden and Guy Mollet, Premier of France, who have been criticized as being "soft," may feel that this is a good opportunity to show their real strength.

At President Eisenhower's last press conference he stated clearly that all nations should respect "the sovereignty of Egypt as it applies to the Suez Canal." This insures that the United States will not get into a squabble. Since that is apparently all Nasser demanded, there is nothing to fight over except regulations and toll charges. President Eisenhower made clear that the International Treaty of 1888 gives many nations rights in and to the Canal in perpetuity; but that this does not mean that Egypt internationalized her sovereignty.

From a legal standpoint it is much like a city which gives a street railway or bus company a permanent franchise, but without relinquishing sovereignty or ownership of its streets. The city may make regulations and fares as it desires, so long as it does not "take property without due process of law."

Five Nation Committee

The Committee of Five Neutral Nations is in Cairo conferring with President Nasser. The chairman of this Committee is the Australian Prime Minister Menzies. I forecast that the final agreement will recognize the sovereignty of Egypt, but that nothing will be done to seriously harm the Suez Canal Company, which has the franchise to operate the canal. Like all dictators, "President" Nasser must do something radical to show his power and keep his job. However, the one thing Egypt needs most—other than better character—is more money. The new toll rates, which like nearly everything else, are passed on to the ultimate consumer, will give Nasser the needed additional funds.

What Nasser Fears

Neither Egypt, nor the other countries which are benefiting from American dollars, want to be guilty of "expropriation." They know this would frighten away American, English, and French investors. There are, however, other arguments the Committee of Five could use with President Nasser. For instance, more than one half of Britain's oil imports come through this canal. If the canal should be closed, other sources of supply would be available from Venezuela, West Indies, and the United States. For a short time only, the use of oil in England and France would need to be rationed.

Within a year new pipelines could be built to carry oil direct to the Mediterranean. This pipeline would be from Haifa on the Mediterranean to the Gulf of Aqaba. Furthermore, with an increase in tanker capacity, England and France could temporarily return to the old route around the Cape of Good Hope. This Suez scare will awaken nations to the need of more tanker capacity so that they will not again risk being cut off.

Doubtless Nasser remembers what the airlift did in bringing oil, food, and other necessities into Berlin several years ago when Stalin tried a stunt similar to Nasser's. In fact, it is a fair question whether the Suez Canal would be built today, with the possible competition of air transport, electrical transmission, and big tankers.

Suez and the Stock Market
Although there may be several good reasons for taking profits today on stocks, certainly the Suez scare is no reason for selling stocks at the present time. What will ultimately create a crash in the stock market will be some totally unexpected event which no one can now forecast. Therefore, I repeat my forecast that England and France and Egypt will arrive at a peaceful settlement; but whatever happens, the United States will keep out of any fighting. Furthermore, we will continue our present policy of withdrawing troops from Europe and reorganizing our fighting strength to conform to the new nuclear policy.

Leafstrand says Whitey, his wife's cat, apparently doesn't like to miss the fun on swimming parties and "just takes off and 'dog paddles' out in the water." He adds that his dog, a 90-pound Chesapeake Bay retriever, can dive about four feet deep, can swim at least 10 feet under water and stay submerged at least a minute.

tes. The devotions were led by Mrs. Laurence Dolan. The president, Mrs. Frank Dylewski, presided at the business meeting. Henninger - Radenberg Nuptials Are Held

(Pennington Photo)

On Sunday, Sept. 9 at 2:30 p. m. in St. Peter's Church, Miss Shirley Margaret Henninger, daughter of Mr. Ewald Henninger of 14 Lawrenceville street, exchanged vows with Nicholas Peter Radenberg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Peter Radenberg Sr., 59 East Chester street. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. William V. Reynolds.

At the organ was Nan Goldrick and Richard Scherer sang several selections.

White gladioli and palms decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Ralph Honnelt. She wore a gown of rose point lace over bridal satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a scalloped lace bertha with tiny collar. The bodice was embroidered with iridescent sequins and her bouffant skirt terminated in a chapel length train. A bridal cap of matching lace and seed pearls secured the veil. The bride carried a bouquet of white pompons.

WHOSE PLACE TO WRITE?
"My daughter who lives on the west coast, is going to announce her engagement very soon to a man from the same city in which she lives whom I have never met. When she receives her ring, am I supposed to write to her fiancé or to his mother or to them both? And if so, what do I say? This is all new to me and I need your help as to just what is expected of me."

It is the man's mother who should go to see (or write to) the girl and also her mother. In this case, which is hampered by distance, you should, of course, write a welcoming letter to your future son-in-law. That is all. If his mother doesn't write to you, you must not be offended because this is one of the rules of etiquette which a great many people do not know.

Wedding Announcements
Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon at a very small wedding with just the immediate family present. Many of my old friends and relatives do, however, know of my forthcoming marriage. I would like to know if wedding announcements should be sent to them anyway, or whether they are sent only to those who do not know of my marriage.

Answer: Correctly, wedding announcements are sent to all those who were not invited to the wedding, whether they know about it or not.

Fruit Centerpiece
Dear Mrs. Post: When the centerpiece on a dinner table is of fruit rather than flowers, isn't it proper for a guest to help him (or her) self to a piece of fruit after dessert. A friend of mine says it is not proper to disarrange the fruit and that it is purely for decoration. Is she right about this?

Answer: It is correct to eat the fruit after you have finished your dessert, providing guests remain seated at table. However, if the fruit is in such a complicated arrangement that taking one piece might cause an avalanche of the rest it would be better not to take it.

Should the boy or girl go through a revolving door first? This is one of many questions in leaflet E-11, "Do You Know Your ABC's in Manners?" (A quiz for high school boys and girls.) Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

350 Patrons Attend West Camp Fair Traditional Dinner

More than 350 dinners were served at the West Camp Church Fair Thursday night by the ladies of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp.

Both the 5 and 6 o'clock servings were sold out and more than 100 were served on the last table of the traditional dinner.

A large crowd and balmy weather favored the Young Couples Club operating the outside concessions and a continuous stream of youngsters lined up for the pony rides supplied through the cooperation of Riley's Rancho of Pine Grove, Saugerties.

The highlight of the second and final day of the fair will be the children's pet show which opens tonight at 6 o'clock in the parish hall. Pets will be registered and numbered by the committee and will be exhibited until the time of the judging about 8:30 p. m.

The judging panel will include Miss Lauretta Tierney, Miss Saugerties of 1956 who will appear through the courtesy of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce; Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams and Elden C. Myer, president of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club.

All fairway features will be open the second night, including the Yankee pitching game, house of glass, hole in one golf and darts. The ponies will not be available tonight to avoid conflict with the pet show. However, two shows of cartoons for the kiddies will be presented during the evening.

The specialty booths of the women's auxiliaries, the exotic plants and the one-man art show of Julius Gentlen of Catskill will continue for the second and final evening of the annual event.

There is no admittance fee and a large free parking area is available for patrons of the fair.

Sundown Marks Yom Kippur, Day of Atonement

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—Yom Kippur, the day of atonement and the holiest day of the Jewish religious calendar, will be observed from sundown today until sundown tomorrow by Jews throughout the world.

It concludes the 10-day high holy day season which began with Rosh Hashana, the New Year, which started the year 5717.

On Yom Kippur, a day of fasting, abstention and prayer, Jews examine their deeds of a past year and seek forgiveness for their transgressions.

According to the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, Jewish tradition holds that before God will pardon a transgression, the guilty must seek the forgiveness of the individual who was wronged.

The worship at sundown today begins with the singing of the celebrated hymn, Kol Nidre, Hebrew for "All Vows," a petition for forgiveness for deeds of impetuosity and rashness.

The prayers at both Yom Kippur services emphasize the Jewish belief in man's capacity for spiritual betterment, the announcement said.

AMERICAN MENU

Blend Tuna Chunks With Vegetables for Casserole

ROBUST CASSEROLE fit for company is created from tender chunks of tuna with vegetables in cream sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDON
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Canned tuna in oil is on the national list of plentiful foods. Therefore we will give you a recipe of Mrs. Ruth Hayes of Chicago. She is a business woman who enjoys entertaining. But she must keep her food preparation to a minimum. This casserole is one of her standbys—easy, popular and with a "party" look.

Tuna Company Casserole—(Makes 6 servings)
Two 7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna, 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, ½ cup light cream, 2 cups cooked carrots, 2 cups cooked peas, ½ cup cooked, small white onions, 2 tablespoons chopped, cooked mushrooms.

Drain tuna and reserve 3 tablespoons oil. Add flour and salt to tuna oil and blend. Gradually add milk and cream and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Break tuna into pieces. Add tuna, carrots, peas, onions and mushrooms to white sauce; mix well. Turn into lightly greased 2-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated.

Tuna Cheese Rolls—(Makes 4 servings)
Eight thin slices bread, 1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened, 1 canned pimiento, finely chopped, 1 6½-ounce can chunk-style tuna, drained, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine.

Cut crusts from bread. Combine cheese and pimiento. Mix well. Spread on bread slices, top with tuna. Roll up jelly-roll fashion. Brush with butter or margarine. Arrange in shallow baking pan and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until browned.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:
Company tuna casserole, steamed rice, lettuce, tomato and green pepper salad, crisp French bread, butter or margarine, honeydew melon or canned or frozen fruit, coffee, tea, milk.

Pilot Uninjured In Forced Landing On State Thruway

Airman 1/c Richard C. Aggers, 24, of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, escaped injury Thursday evening when a two-seater plane he was piloting developed propeller trouble and was forced to land on the Thruway about halfway between the Saugerties and Catskill interchanges.

Thruway Police at Albany told the Freeman today Aggers, assigned to the 329th Material Squadron at the Newburgh base, was piloting a 1946 Fairchild low-wing monoplane. The owner of the plane had not been determined, a trooper said.

Aggers developed propeller trouble, landed on the south-bound lane and taxied the plane into the center mall, according to Thruway Police. He landed about 5:20 p. m., they said.

Troopers said he was granted permission by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and Thruway authorities for a take-off "some time today." A trooper at the Albany office said traffic would probably be stopped to permit Aggers to take off.

Woman Is Found Safe on Desert

El Centro, Calif., Sept. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Latham, who disappeared from her San Diego home Wednesday, was found on the desert near here early today, the sheriff's office reported.

Deputy Bill Dickey said she apparently had been let out or thrown out of an automobile at Plaster City, 19 miles west of here on state highway 80. Dickey said she apparently was not harmed, or at least not seriously hurt. She was taken immediately to Imperial County Hospital here.

Plaster City is the site of a U. S. Gypsum Co. plant, from which the settlement gets its name.

Mrs. Latham, 51-year-old wife of a wealthy San Diego investment broker, was listed by San Diego police as a missing person. They said there was no evidence that she had been kidnapped.

There was a famous insurance case in San Francisco in which one of the important questions was what exactly was the cause of the death of the insured. Many eminent medical specialists went on the stand and testified they had examined the decedent and that he was suffering from a shrunken liver.

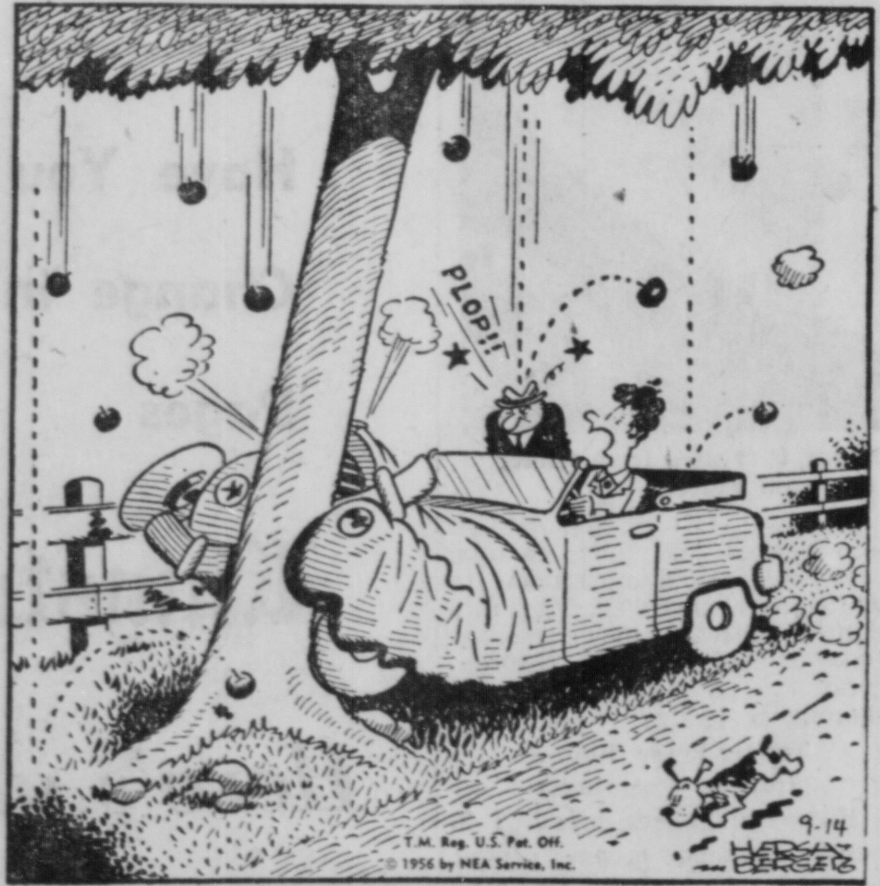

Presently, a young interne came on the stand. He testified that, instead of a shrunken liver, the dead man had an abnormally large liver.

Cross-examining Lawyer--Do I understand you to sit there and swear that this man had an enlarged liver, when all these eminent specialists have said the opposite? (thundering). Interne (calmly)--I do. Lawyer (shouting)--How does it come that you set yourself up against these great physicians? You, a mere whippersnapper of a young doctor, only a few months out of medical school. It is preposterous. How do you know he had an enlarged liver? Interne--I performed the autopsy.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By HERSCHBERGER

The famous stage actor had finally succumbed to Hollywood's offers and was making his first picture.

Friend--Don't you find it rather strange playing without an audience? Actor--Not at all. It doesn't trouble me in the slightest. You see, I've just finished a road tour in Shakespeare.

Police--Can you give me a description of your missing book-keeper? Store Owner--He was five feet six inches tall, and about $4,000 short.

A Chicago gambler, prosperous at his business, invariably lost all his winnings at cards by betting on the horse races.

His wife reproached him bitterly. Wife--What's the use of your sitting up all night and winning money if you go right down to the track every day and lose it all on the horses? You are supposed to be a good gambler, but you are a sucker at the race track. You can't win. Husband--Maybe I can't, but, by golly, I could win if I could shuffle the horses.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Leafing through old books of Kingston and Rondout I often wonder why, in the past quarter of a century, none have been printed giving a good photo of the business establishments and then a complete history of the various businesses. It should include the type of merchandise made or sold, the experience of the owners, when established. In years to come many of the present business establishments will be completely forgotten, only perhaps mentioned in an old City Directory, that is not enough. I have before me an excellent ninety-page book of Kingston and Rondout of 1892 put out by George F. Bacon, and he certainly did an artistic and detailed coverage of so many of the business houses of a half a century ago. It is full of pictures of business houses, many with owners standing in doorways, no doubt photographed especially for this book.

One reads E. G. Adams, manufacturer of mattresses, pillows, church cushions, pantaloons, overalls, shirts etc., I looked up E. G. Adams in the 1897 City Directory and it mentions him also as Kingston Clothing Co. and (h. 254 Hasbrouck avenue). In the book they say in part: "The enterprise is carried on by Mr. E. G. Adams, proprietor of 'The Durable Pantaloons and Overall Manufactory,' and manufacturer of mattresses, pillows, church cushions etc. Since he began operations in 1885, he has built up a very extensive trade, and has gained the reputation of producing goods that are "the same yesterday, today and forever," that is to say, "reliable." The premises utilized by him comprise three floors, each 45x60 feet in dimensions, and contain a complete plant of machinery driven by a powerful water-motor. Employment is given to about 50 hands, so orders are filled at short notice. He manufactures some 18 different kinds of mattresses which, of course, vary greatly in cost; using the best material at a very reasonable price." I wonder who remembers or knows about the "Durable Pantaloons and Overall Manufactory." Perhaps some readers do.

Rensselaer Joins Opposition to Act

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 14 (P)—The Rensselaer county board of supervisors has joined in opposition to the state's new youth court act.

The board last night adopted unanimously a resolution expressing its opposition, thus following similar action taken by boards in several other counties.

The resolution asked for repeal of the statute, or delay in its effective date—Feb. 1, 1957—to permit additional study. The supervisors said they believed the expense of administering the law would be "exorbitant" compared with the services provided.

Ted Kroll Shoots 74 In Match at Wiltwyck

World Champion Plays Before 500 In Exhibition

Wiltwyck Country Club's mighty challenge yesterday foiled the determined efforts of the world's golf champion to match its par figures.

Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., winner of the 1956 World golf title, toured Wiltwyck's sprawling, scenic layout in a respectable 2-over-par 74 with nines of 36 and 38.

Kroll, making his second stop on the $50,000, 50-match exhibition tour sponsored by the George S. May Co. of Chicago, teamed with the home pro, Dave McMeekin, to defeat Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill and J. Carson Hutchins of Woodstock, 4 up, in a best-ball match, as nearly 500 enthusiastic spectators watched varying stages of the match.

Gerlak, playing Wiltwyck for the first time, carded a 78 on nines of 42 and a par-36. Hutchins posted 45-39-84 and McMeekin had 44-42-86. The four-some played from the championship blue tees on a course that measured close to 7,000 yards.

Hunting Season For Waterfowl Listed for State

Albany, N. Y., Sept. (AP)—The Conservation Department announced today that the hunting season on waterfowl would run from Oct. 15 through Dec. 23 upstate and from Nov. 3 to Jan. 11 on Long Island.

The move came despite objections from some hunters in the Finger Lakes area that the dates upstate—the same as last year—were "too early" for the migration of ducks southward. Several sportsmens groups contended there would be "no ducks until after the season ends" and urged that the department set the dates back one week, from Oct. 22 to Jan. 1.

JOHN DALY, Conservation Department Secretary, said the department had received "some letters" objecting to the proposed dates. He said the dates were set after "careful and detailed consideration" and that the department felt they were "in the best interests by far of the great majority of duck hunters."

The dates were approved by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. State Commissioner Sharon Mauhs said in a statement that the Conservation Department's waterfowl biologists believed that an uninterrupted, 70-day season best served the interests of sportsmen.

Some hunters, especially in the Finger Lakes, had asked also for a split season, running as late as Jan. 15.

MAUHS SAID the bag limits on ducks would be the same as last year—four a day. The possession limit is eight.

The bag limit on scoters (sea-coots), old-squaws and eiders will be 7 a day and 14 in possession. These species may be taken in coastal waters beyond outer harbor lines from Oct. 1 through Dec. 31, the department said.

The seasons for geese and brant are the same as that set for ducks. The bag limit are two geese and six brant a day.

The shooting hours run from a half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The department also announced seasons on woodcock, as a migratory game bird.

THESE WILL RUN from Oct. 15 through Nov. 23 upstate, except for the Lake Plains counties of Erie, Genesee, Livingston, Monroe, Niagara, Ontario, Orleans, Seneca, Wayne, Wyoming, Yates and Chautauqua. The latter season opens Oct. 22 and closes Nov. 23. On Long Island the season will run from Nov. 1 to Nov. 23. The bag limit is four a day and eight in possession.

Wilson's snipe (jacksnipe) may be taken upstate from Oct. 15 to Nov. 13 and Long Island from Nov. 3 to Dec. 2. The bag limits are eight a day and eight in possession.

A federal duck stamp, in addition to the regular hunting license, is necessary to hunt migratory waterfowl, the department said. No federal stamp is needed for woodcock.

It has been estimated that 100 hours of operation of a tractor is equivalent to 4,500 or 5,000 miles on a passenger car.

Ed Koskie Rolls 298 Solo in Sportsmen's Major

Misses Perfect Score on Twelfth Ball Baby Split

A 175-average kegger who missed the last two seasons because of arm trouble narrowly missed a perfect "300" score in last night's opening Sportsmen's Major League action at the Bowlodrome.

Eddie Koskie, a Federal Bearings employee, cracked a 298 on alleys 9 and 10, failing to achieve the goal of every kegger when his 12th ball in the middle game rolled slightly "high" into the head pin and left the "baby split" (3-10) standing.

Koskie had opened his series with 182 and bounced back from the 298 with a 207 and a 687 aggregate. Both scores, of course, represent career records for the downtown kegger and seasonal marks for the Sportsmen's Major.

Koskie qualified for two American Bowling Congress awards. He will receive a brass award for the 298 and also joins the ABC's "11 in a row" club.

Peterson Hits 582

Next highest score was Bob Peterson's 217-582. Leo Bechtold fired 222-580, Ralph Garafalo 237-550, Lester Smith 203-535, Harry Secreto 544, Joe Mahar 216-525, George Brown 507, Ross Ellis 507, Huck Swirsky 521, Ernie Bartroff 517, Jack Thompson 234-523.

Jack O'Rourke spilled 546, George Magley 521, Ed J. Espoito 501, Jerry Smith 502, Bob Felton 208-513, Red Gorsline 525, Joe Lucas 507, Bill Schabot 217-531, Joe McGrane 237-579, Sheldon Levy 208, Ralph Wilson 214-533.

Team results:

Reynolds Plumbing 3, Colonial Cleaners 0; United Pharmacy 3, Stony Hollow Hilltop 0; Circle Bar 1, Williams Lake Hotel 2; Madden's TV 2, Vogel's Dairy 1.

Tiger Jones Strong Favorite To Whip Greaves

Washington, Sept. 14 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, the Yonkers, N. Y., veteran, stands as a strong favorite to halt the rise of young Wilfie Greaves in their 10-round middleweight go (NBC TV & radio) at Capitol Arena tonight.

Jones ends a two-month layoff to resume his campaign for a shot at champion Ray Robinson. He's rated No. 3 contender, and Manager Bob Melnick is hopeful of making the match later this year if dicker for a Robinson-Gene Fullmer bout falls through.

The 28-year-old Jones defeated Sugar Ray early last year at the start of Robinson's comeback to the crown.

Greaves, a 19-year-old Canadian, now is fighting out of Pittsburgh.

In 59 contests, Jones has won 40—by katto—lost 16 and drawn 3. He's battled only four times this year.

Greaves has a 9-2-1 record, including three knockouts, in a little more than a year of fighting. He's won all eight of his 1956 tests.

Diamond Hal Sets Yonkers Mark in Good Time Pace

Yonkers, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Diamond Hal rushed up in the final 30 yards of the $29,250 Good Time Pace at Yonkers Raceway last night to beat the favored Adios Harry and set a new Yonkers Raceway track record of 3:05 3/5 for a mile and one half.

The winner, owned by S. A. Camp of Shafter, Calif., and driven by Little Joe Obrien, caught Adios Harry in the stretch, and drew off to win by two lengths. Adios Harry won the Good Time Pace a year ago in 3:09 1/5.

Adios Harry managed to save second place over Torrid while fourth place went to Philip Scott.

Diamond Hal paid $23.20, $7.30 and $5.20 while Adios Harry, the 4-5 favorite, returned $3 and $2.70. Torrid, a 14-1 shot, paid $4.80 to show.

Red Hook Group Announces Plans For Horse Show

Committees have been named for the seventh annual Red Hook Student Aid Association horse show to be held Oct. 6 at 9:30 a. m. on the Walsh property, Maizeland road, Red Hook.

This year will mark the first year that the show has been licensed by the American Horse Show Association. The medal classes will be the ASPCA Hunter Seat Class and the Hunting and Stock seat medal class.

There will be two rings, one for Western and one for English competition. The New York Military Academy is planning to compete this year, which will increase both local and out-of-town interest in the show.

Serving on committees are: Dr. Louis Dillman Harold Frommer, Mrs. Edward Holt, Mrs. Douglas Norton, Dr. Leonard Rathbun, and Mrs. Lee Smithers.

Highland High Gridders Will Be Hurt by Lack of Depth

Reserve Backfield Completely Lost; 7 Lettermen Back

Lack of depth is the big problem facing Coach Bob Relyea of Highland High School as he readies his forces for a rugged eight-game football schedule.

Relyea was counting on a flock of promising Jayvee players to bolster his bench, but several have failed to turn out as expected, leaving the Highlanders' grid-maestro short on reserve talent. The sudden turn of events is being felt the most in the second string backfield which has been completely wiped out.

A HOST OF good-looking freshmen have showed up, but, of course, are a year away from varsity caliber. Relyea said, though that through necessity he is grooming several of the yearlings for reserve duty as varsity backs.

Seven lettermen are back and will form the nucleus of the squad. Heading the offensive group will be Johnny Gersch, the Highlanders' exciting quarterback and four-letterman.

Gersch is perhaps the best runner in area village school circles and a fine passer. He is the lad to stop in Highland's attack and the only regular backfield operator returning.

RELYEA IS FAIRLY well set in the line with four regulars back and raring to go. They are Bob Valentino, right end; Dan Angellilo, right tackle, Walt Burger, left guard and Ron Perkins, center.

John Mazzetti, a lineman and Ed Sagarese, a back, are also lettermen who are returning. Both saw plenty of action in reserve roles last year.

Relyea has nine leads on hand who played second-string and Jayvee ball in '55. They include Dave Burdush, George Baker, Sam Vona, Howard Baker, Martin Kerins, Leonard Stevens,

Les Silvern and George Schreiber. Rounding out the 40-man squad are 24 new candidates. They are John Simmons, Hans Muhlfeld, Leslie Lindhe, Pete Vona, Gene Robinson, Steve Marioles, Fred Bragg, Mike Scott, Bill Phillips, Leo Lillimagi, Larry Giangrasso, Frank Girusso

AND VINCENT DiMaio, Ronald Schopinsky, Gerhart Burfeindt, Ross Prizzia, Tony Pezzo, Frank Dispensa, Howard Baker, George Lewick, George Marcello, Rocco Canora, Anthony Vigliotti and Martin Timperio.

Nine lettermen graduated from last year's team, including six regulars, which won four games and lost three. Gone are first-stringers Gordon Kretz, end; Charlie Crimi, tackle; Dave Mackey, guard; Esau McClinton, right halfback; John Valentino, fullback and Tony Cusa, left halfback. Also front-line reserves Chuck Mazzetti, lineman, John Gruner, back and Jack Schopinsky, lineman.

Highland opens the season with Roosevelt High Sept. 22. Other opponents include Mt. Kisco, Saugerties, Clarkstown, Arlington, Liberty, Wappingers Falls, and Cardinal Farley. The Highlanders play only one home date and that's with Liberty Oct. 27. The contest is slated for the New Paltz Central gridiron which Highland uses as a home field.

Relyea, who succeeded Frank Hamblet as head coach and athletic director at the beginning of the season, will be assisted by line coach Frank Modica.

The schedule:
Sept. 22—Roosevelt, away.
Sept. 29—Mt. Kisco, away.
Oct. 6—Saugerties, away.
Oct. 13—Clarkstown, away.
Oct. 20—Arlington, away.
Oct. 27—Liberty, home (New Paltz).
Nov. 3—Wappingers Falls, away.
Nov. 10—Cardinal Farley Military Academy, away.

Milwaukee Lead Stands at 2 Games

Braves Perform Like Champs In Sweeping Pair From Phils

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The nerve-wracking pennant pressure Brooklyn's world champions have been so sure would make Milwaukee crack, today is squarely on the Dodgers—not the Braves.

Milwaukee never looked more like the National League champion than it did today. It was hustle guy Johnny Logan, banged up with a sore back and out of the lineup when the Braves were in Brooklyn this week, who complained the loudest about how the Dodgers were beating called "the old pros."

"We," said Logan, "are the young pros. We can play under pressure, too."

He was right. After knocking off Don Newcombe despite a 3-0 deficit to gain a split in the series at Brooklyn Wednesday, the Braves wheeled into Philadelphia last night and twice came bustlin' from behind to sweep a two-night doubleheader from the Phillies. They did it the hard way—winning 3-2 in 13 innings, and 4-3 in 12.

With Brooklyn idle and third place Cincinnati defeating Pittsburgh 5-4 in a single game, the race looks like this today:

Aaron, with four runs batted in for the night, tripled home the winning run in the opener. And when his 25th home run failed to get the job done in the nightcap 11th, he nailed it for sure in the 12th with a sacrifice fly for Spahn's 200th major league victory.

THOMSON, FINED $100 by Manager Fred Haney for a wild attempted steal of home against Brooklyn, wiped the fine off the books with a peg that nailed a runner at the plate in the opener 12th—then did it again in the nightcap ninth.

St. Louis defeated New York 5-0 in the only other NL game. In the American, Mickey Mantle's first September home run, his 48th, gave New York's pennant bound Yankees a 3-2 victory over Kansas City. Baltimore bounced Cleveland 4-1, and southpaw Billy Pierce became the league's first 20-game winner since 1954 by beating Boston 4-3 in 10 innings as Chicago reclaimed third place. Detroit beat Washington 7-2.

THE BRAVES, now 10-10 for the season with the Phillies, were down 2-0 in the first game against Jack Meyer's six-inning one-hitter. Then Danny O'Connell singled, Aaron got an RBI double and Mathews hit a run-producing single to tie it in the seventh. Phillips, who relieved Bob Trowbridge, gave up seven hits in eight innings, but struck out six and left eight runners stranded for his fifth victory.

Meyer hit O'Connell with a pitch ahead of Aaron's big triple. In the nightcap, Jim Greengrass and Andy Seminick tagged Spahn for back-to-back home runs and a 2-0 Phillie lead in the second inning. Then the 35-year-old lefty, who had three hits, doubled home two to tie it off Robin Roberts in the fifth. Aaron's homer was matched by Ted Kazanski's shot in the 11th off Spahn, but relievers Ben Flowers and Curt Simmons then walked the bases full to get up Aaron's sacrifice fly in the 12th.

SPAHN, who gave six hits and walked but two in winning his 17th, is the fourth now-active 200-game winner. Cleveland's Bob Lemon made it earlier this week, joining teammates Bobby Feiler and Early Wynn.

A pinch single by Ray Jablonski and a single by Frank Robinson drove in the tying and winning runs for the Redlegs in the ninth inning at Pittsburgh. George Crowe's pitch homer had helped get two in the seventh for a 3-all tie, but the Pirates broke it in their seventh on Frank Thomas' 22nd home run. Wilmer Mizell gave just four hits for his second straight shutout while the Cardinals, winning their sixth in a row, got a two-run triple from Thornton Lockman and homers from Rip Repulski and Ken Boyer to whack the Giants.

MANTLE, who doubled ahead of Yogi Berra's two-run single in the first, homered in the third for Whitey Ford's 18th victory—matching his previous high (1953, 1955) in the majors. The homer left Mantle four shy of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace with 14 games to go. The Yanks need any combination of five victories and Cleveland defeats to clinch their 22nd pennant.

Pierce was slugged for 10 hits, but rode in on Ron Northey's pinch single in the 10th to beat 19-game winner Tom Brewer and become the White Sox' first 20-game winner since Thornton Lee in 1941. Walt Droppo and Jim Rivera homered for the Chisox. Jim Piersall for Boston.

Ray Boone and Jack Phillips had seven of Detroit's 15 hits as the Tigers beat Chuck Stobbs (15-12) for their seventh in a row. Paul Foytack won his 13th with a five-hitter.

Ward, Campbell Square Off in Amateur Semis

Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 14 (AP)—For the second straight year, two dedicated golfers and a pair of week-end players squared off today in the 36-hole semi-finals of the National Amateur Golf championship. And people who had been calling the 56th championship another Harvie Ward Benefit began to wonder a little. The difference between 1955 and 1956 was in the pairings. Ward, who seems to have knack of bringing his game to a peak for late stages of an important tournament, laid his title on the line against Joe Campbell, a brash, blond-headed college kid who doesn't quite believe he can lose.

ON THE OTHER SIDE, 43-year-old Chuck Kocis of Detroit, a top-flight golfer of 20 years ago who came here just for a little fun, opposed tall Jerry Magee, a 22-year-old Toronto auto salesman whose right was impaired in a hockey accident some year ago.

A year ago Ward had a rather soft touch in his semi-final match against Billy Booe and he breezed through the final against Bill Hyndman, who had worn himself out upsetting Hillman Robbins. This time it looks a little different.

CAMPBELL, A quarter finalist last year, isn't the kind who is easily disturbed. He specializes in getting his approach shots so close to the pin that he can get down in one putt.

Kocis has qualified for the championship 14 times and reached the quarter-finals way back in 1935. Never sensational, he has been playing some of the steadiest golf of the tournament.

Magee was a finalist in the Canadian Amateur this year and whipped Robbins and Don Cherry, a couple of pretty rugged rivals, on his way to the semi-finals. He's hoping to become the first Canadian to win the U. S. title since Sandy Somerville in 1932.

WARD HAS WON THE U. S. and British titles. At the age of 30, Harvie is about at the peak of his career. In disposing of John P. Ward (no relation) of Syracuse, N. Y., and southern champion Arnold Blum yesterday, the good looking San Francisco auto salesman was six under for 30 holes.

Magee defeated Ted Gleichmann, Ventura, Calif., 2 and 1; Kocis eliminated Rex Baxter Jr., Amarillo, Tex., 3 and 2; Campbell edged Fontanini, 2 and 1, and Ward was 3 and 2 over Blum.

Motorist Trouble

Kulm, N. D. (AP)—Add to the hazards of motoring the flying jackrabbit. Otto Ribehagen was driving along when a jackrabbit jumped from somewhere, crashed through the windshield and landed dead in the back seat. A passenger, Mrs. Theodore Schorzman of Rupert, Idaho, received minor injuries.

A Little Learning

Corry, Pa. (AP)—Borough officials were a bit perturbed when their sewage treatment plant went on the blink for the second time within two months. An abnormal sludge deposit and extensive rainfall were given as two reasons for the breakdown. The sewage plant operator could not be reached. He was attending a course on how to operate sewage plants.

Schenectady, Reading Advance To Series Finals

(By The Associated Press)

The Schenectady Blue Jays, 1956 Eastern League champions, will be host to the Reading Indians tonight in the opening game of a best-of-five series for the Governor's Cup.

The Jays and Indians swept by semi-final round opponents, Allentown and Binghamton, in three straight games.

SCHENECTADY SPANKED Allentown for the third time last night 6-1 at Allentown and Reading overpowered the visiting Binghamton Triplets, 6-0, behind the two-hit pitching of 19-year-old Gary Bell of San Antonio, Tex.

Dick Bunker led the pennant-winners in a five-hit pitching performance. He fanned nine and walked only one.

One of the blows given up by Bunker was a sixth-inning home run by Jack Heusman.

Harry Anderson paced the Jays' offense with three hits in five trips. He was credited with driving in the first four Schenectady runs.

A PAIR of Binghamton singles in the sixth inning spoiled Bell's no-hit chances. The sturdy right-handed struck out 14 trips and gave up two passes.

Home runs by Joe Randazzo and Ken Retzer sparked the Indians attack.

Hank Bolinda (9-8) will start for the Jays against Reading's Tom Herrera (4-3) in tonight's opener.

The first two games of the finals will be played at Schenectady. The tournament will be completed at Reading.

In another Eastern League development last night it was learned that the New York Giants of the National League have canceled their working agreement with the Johnstown Johnnies.

GIANT OFFICIALS are reportedly interested in moving their farm system to Elmira, which gave up its Eastern franchise at the close of the 1955 season.

yesterday said it had agreed to sell $30,000 worth of general admission tickets if it can get back into the league. And Thomas H. Richardson, league president, has announced a franchise will be available, but would not comment further.

Elmira's franchise moved to Syracuse after the '55 campaign. Johnstown joined the league July 1, 1955, when Wilkes-Barre, Pa., dropped out of competition.

Practical Nurses Urged to Attend National Parley

It was strongly urged today by Mrs. Anna Hasselman, 42 Chapel street, that organized practical nurses of the area attend the convention of National Federation of Practical Nurses in Hartford, Conn., next week.

Mrs. Hasselman, president of the Ulster County Division, Practical Nurses of New York, Inc., said the convention in the Statler Hotel would begin Sunday, Sept. 16 and run to Sept. 23. Nurses in the county organization desiring to attend may contact her, Mrs. Hasselman said.

Speakers are to be Mrs. Frances T. Lenehan, R.N., chief supervisor, psychiatric nursing, Massachusetts Department of Mental Health; John E. LePore, coordinator, Wisconsin Vocational and Adult Schools and Mrs. Frances Severn, a licensed practical nurse serving on the board of directors of the National League for Nursing.

Mrs. Hasselman said there are 30,000 members in the National Federation, taking in every state in the union.

Business to be discussed will include planning for continuing the drive to win either voting representation for practical nurses on each state board of examiners of nurses, or independent boards concerned solely with practical nurse matters, Mrs. Hasselman said. New York state at present does not have either voting representation for practical nurses on the board of examiners or a separate board.

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—Bess Myerson, Miss America of 1945, and her husband have reached agreement on custody of their nine-year-old daughter. The dispute was settled in chambers of State Supreme Court Justice Matthew M. Levy, who announced last night that differences had been "mutually and agreeably settled." Levy said the mother, now a TV performer, would have custody of the child, Barbara, while her husband, Allan Wayne, would have "certain rights of visitation."

Paper Blames U. S.

Moscow, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said today U. S. "cannon kings" are blocking disarmament. "Advocates of these cannon kings have assumed a task patently beyond their strength," Izvestia said. "They are trying to prove that in the United States most of the population is interested in the current arms race policy. The honeyed promises of the arms race preachers, who allege cannon will insure butter, will not save the United States from economic hardships."

Pilots Give Advice

Port Said, Sept. 14 (AP)—Veteran foreign pilots quitting the Suez Canal tonight had this advice for newcomers here to learn the job: "Don't let the big ditch fool you. It's not as easy as it may look. This is why: The canal is 380 feet wide at the waterline, but its rock-lined sides slope in so it is only 180 feet wide at the bottom. The depth is 34 feet 3 inches."

Strike Is Launched

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Argentine white collar workers' union ignored a government ban and launched a 24-hour strike today to back demands for higher wages and other benefits. Commerce within Buenos Aires slowed down noticeably. Operations of most stores, shops and business offices were paralyzed.

BENJAMIN SCHECTER

Kingston's chairman of the United Jewish Appeal for 1956, Benjamin Schechter of 199 Downs street, also will receive a citation at convocation ceremonies at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America to be held in New York city Sunday, Sept. 23, at 4 p. m.

Mr. Schechter, a former president of Congregation Ahavath Israel, received notification of his award yesterday.

On Water Board

Well-known for his civic and fraternal affiliations throughout Kingston and Ulster county, Mr. Schechter is currently serving as a member of the Board of Water Commissioners. He formerly served as president of that board.

He also has served as vice-president of the Jewish Community Council, president of the P.T.A. of School 6 and has been identified with other parent-teacher organizations of the city.

Mr. Schechter was toastmaster at the recent 50th anniversary celebration of Congregation Ahavath Israel at the Grand Hotel and Country Club in Kerkonkson.

He will be one of 100 presidents and former presidents of United Synagogue congregations who will be cited for their active part in the conservative movement by Dr. Louis Finklestein, Chancellor of the seminary, at the convocation honoring the memory of Louis Marshall, noted New York lawyer and chairman of the seminary's board of directors for 24 years.

Meyner to Talk

Other guests will include Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Simon E. Sobeloff, judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals and former U. S. Solicitor General.

Two other Kingston men also will be honored with Mr. Schechter.

Scudder, Burns Receive Honors

S. D. Scudder, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, 267 Wall street, has been honored in his 40th year of service to his community. Arthur J. Burns, a director for 34 years, shares in the distinction.

At the annual convention of the Savings Association League of New York State, which ends today at Saranac Inn, Mr. Scudder and Mr. Burns were enrolled in the League's new honor society, "The Pillars of Thrift." They received membership cards, noting length of service, signed by David Ford, president of the League. The cards said, "Steadfast support and enduring contributions to thrift and home ownership."

Membership in the new society is confined to directors, officers and employees and counsel of member associations with 25 years service, or longer.

Adlai's Silence On Hiss Matter Scored by Hall

Philadelphia, Sept. 14 (AP)—GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall today described as "a travesty on statesmanship" Adlai E. Stevenson's silence on the Alger Hiss matter.

In a speech prepared for the Union League Club, Hall joined other Republicans who have urged recently that the Democratic presidential nominee repudiate former President Truman's statements about Hiss. Hiss is a former State Department employee who served a prison term on perjury charges growing out of his denial that he had passed government secrets to a Communist spy ring.

Truman, questioned during a televised interview Sept. 3, replied "no" to a question whether he considered Hiss a Communist spy. While denying that he himself had called the investigation of Hiss a "red herring," Truman added "but it was."

Ask Repudiation
Since then Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) in a statement and Vice President Nixon, in a speech at Gettysburg Wednesday, have called on Stevenson to repudiate Truman's comments. There has been no reply from Stevenson.

Hall, sking his audience today why Stevenson hasn't spoken up, replied: "I don't know. Maybe he doesn't want to offend Harry Truman. Maybe he's listening to some of his ADA friends."

"But what a travesty on statesmanship," The Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) describes itself as an anti-Communist, liberal organization supporting New Deal and "Fair Deal" programs.

Something Fishy
Pottstown, Pa. (AP)—George Keller thought there was something fishy about his water supply and he was right. Experiencing low pressure, Keller removed the kitchen spigot and out rushed the water and a small fish. "It must have come in through the water system," Keller commented.

Three Men Hurt

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 14 (AP)—Three men were injured, none seriously, last night in a two-car headon crash on Route 6, a mile west of Milford in northeast Pennsylvania. Hurt were: Joseph F. Guitson, 31, of Waterbury, Conn., driver of one car, cuts on the nose and left arm, Clarence Carpenter, 55, Middletown, N. Y., driver of the second car, possible fractured ribs and bruised forehead, and Joseph G. Pickard, Middletown, a passenger in the Carpenter car, body bruises and shock. All three were treated by Dr. Jack Bullock of Milford.

Star Witness Is Due in Brink's Robbery Trial

Boston, Sept. 14 (AP)—The stage was set today for the prosecution's star witness, Joseph J. "Specky" O'Keefe, to take the stand in the trial of eight former friends accused of the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery.

The 48-year-old Boston hoodlum pleaded guilty to the robbery and in a signed statement named the eight men on trial as his confederates in pulling off the nation's biggest cash robbery on Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe made his first appearance at Suffolk county courthouse during the six-weeks-old trial yesterday, but the lengthy questioning of two state witnesses kept him from taking the stand before court recessed until today.

Under Heavy Guard
He was held under heavy guard on the sixth floor of the courthouse, one floor below the courtroom. News photographers were the only ones to see him. They were allowed to photograph the balding, Boston man

Just for Laughs

Hillsdale, Mich. (AP)—Two men giggled themselves back to jail before an irate judge. The pair asked to have their court date moved up so they could plead guilty to felonious driving and larceny. But they laughed and snickered so much while making their pleas that the judge ordered them back behind bars to await the next month's court term.
